Performance on Saturday, February 13, 7:30 p.m. at Grace Presbyterian Church

Performance on Sunday, February 14, 5:00 p.m. at The Church of St. John the Divine

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: January 15, 2014

HOUSTON – River Oaks Chamber Orchestra (ROCO) is in the mood for love simply because the audience is near them. Or should we say nearer to them — because they are conductorless! The mood is fitting for a romance with Dvorak and a salute to love with Elgar as ROCO presents its annual conductorless concert on Valentine’s weekend.

ROCO welcomes international soloist and conductor Cho-Liang Lin as concertmaster and soloist for a Valentine-themed concert that includes a world premiere commission by Derek Bermel and works by Elgar, Dvorak and Schubert.

In 2014, ROCO was invited to join a national consortium of the top chamber orchestras in the country to jointly commission a piece that ROCO would premiere this February. New Century Chamber Orchestra in San Francisco and A Far Cry from Boston partnered with ROCO to commission a major new piece for chamber orchestra by Derek Bermel in the first of a potentially fruitful coalition of peer organizations whose goal is to further the chamber orchestra repertoire. Creative collaborations such as these are part of ROCO’s mission. “We are committed to not only making classical music feel alive in how we present music and connect with our audience,” said ROCO founder and artistic director, Alecia Lawyer, “but we are committed to physically keeping it alive through the creation of contemporary music by living composers. This is why our 2014-2015 orchestra series is named ROCO Alive in Concert.”

Tickets for the Friday concert at Grace Presbyterian Church are $35 General Admission, $25 Seniors and $15 Students and the performance begins at 7:30 pm. Tickets for the Saturday concert at The Church of St. John the Divine are $35 for General Admission, $25 for Seniors and $15 for Students and the performance begins at 5:00 pm.
