Bringing MUSIC
to Life

Why do we work to bring music to life?

Music is a language that is ALIVE. We know that it is our responsibility, as industry-leading musicians, to continue to perform all that has been written and to bring into the spotlight, the Bach's and Mozart's of TODAY.

By contributing 54 world premiere commissions to the chamber music repertoire by the close of our 11th season, and by commissioning more than 35 American composers to express our space and time in music, we are not only ensuring a future for classical music, we are shaping the future of classical music.

“The music will take the audience down the rabbit hole into Alice’s wondrous world.”
